

WAS YOUR LAST SUPPLY CHAIN FINANCE RECRUITMENT A LONG AND PAINFUL EXPERIENCE?

LET US FIND THE FINANCE PERSON TO UNLOCK SAVINGS
AND IMPROVE
EFFICIENCIES

Finance professionals tell us there is a massive amount of information in the manufacturing arena, but almost none of it is useable. Management is desperate to know if they are getting a return on their huge investments in new ERP systems and manufacturing infrastructure.

Good Supply Chain Finance People Are a Scarce Commodity

Many companies have created a Supply Chain Finance function to find answers to these questions. Unfortunately, few financial professionals are capable of providing the analyses and answers needed. In fact, most people in manufacturing, accounting and finance are part of the problem rather than the solution, providing the same, tired, detailed reporting – not actionable analyses.

We Can Find the “Needle in the Haystack”

Having placed over 75 Supply Chain and Manufacturing Finance professionals at top companies, such as Nestle Waters NA, Sun Products Corporation and Black & Decker, we can help you fill your next Supply Chain Finance position quickly with an expert who will add value and thrive in the long run. We identify financial professionals with the required IT expertise and hands-on plant experience.

All of Our Candidates Have Quantified Accomplishments

Bond & Company has recruited primarily for manufacturers since 1986. To be a candidate who meets our criteria, an individual needs to show that he (or she) has shortened the reporting cycle, reduced inventory reconciliations, or lowered inventories, while increasing order fill rates, generating actual cost savings or achieving something similarly significant. Everyone says they are committed to Best Practices, but very few people actually apply them. We know that saying is not the same as doing.

You Benefit From Our 25 Years of Experience

Our Metrics show we provide a high level of service:

1. We average one job offer for every four initial interviews;
2. Have a job offer acceptance ratio of over 75%;
3. Know that over 50% of our placements are still with the organization five years after hiring, with virtually every individual promoted at least once.
